

With the recent advances in technology, and the new regulations governing Sectional Title and CSOS, the industry needs to keep pace, and we find that BCMT is meeting those needs.

The take on of existing schemes, whether from Pastel or other software platforms, is surprisingly easy. The methods used and the assistance of the BCMT staff make it is a very easy task to get these schemes up and running.

On a daily (or weekly) basis, the automation of the cash books makes it a task to look forward to, and each time we do it, it gets easier and faster. The time saved can then be utilised to better manage the schemes, and collect any arrears.

The suite of programs is continually evolving, and we are regularly receiving improvements to the system, and additional reporting functionality.

We recommend the system to anybody, and will gladly speak to prospective clients of yours, to put them at ease with changing to your system.
